Curtice Sees Biggest Year in Auto Industry

Prediction Eases Concern Over Mounting Inventories

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice's prediction that 1955 might be the biggest year in automobile history appeared likely today to ease some concern over mounting inventories in the industry — keystone of the national economy.

Curtice, who earlier had forecast a 10 per cent increase in the automobile market compared to 1954, revised his forecast upward to a 20 per cent increase late Thursday in a news conference in Los Angeles.

Other industry leaders and spokesmen for the CIO United Auto Workers refused to match predictions with Curtice. But one spokesman for another company said "Curtice's figures undoubtedly are right."

General Motors has better economy than anyone, even the government. Besides they know what is going to happen to more than half of the industry because they turn out more than half of all cars. Inventories mounting.

"If these are the right figures—and I have no reason to believe they aren't, they undoubtedly are correct," he said.

Despite the highest winter sales in history, automobile inventories have been mounting toward their highest level in history at a rapid pace. This has caused wide concern in other segments of the economy that a drastic curtailment in automobile production might be in the offing.

But with the normally big spring selling season in automobile ahead, Curtice said, inventories should be running at their highest rate in history. Curtice insisted the stocks of GM dealers are "abnormally low," despite the industry's mounting inventories.

He predicted the combined car and truck domestic market might hit 7,000,000 units. He didn't break down the figures but domestic car sales probably would be about 6.1 million.

With the extra production for sales in Canada and other foreign markets, he said combined production might hit 8,000,000 cars and trucks. If it did, the all-time marks set in the boom year of 1950 would tumble.

Labor Peace Essential
Industry leaders figure one out of every seven persons in the nation are dependent on some phase of the automotive industry.

The automobile companies use up roughly one-fifth of all the steel in the nation, and about 65 per cent of all the automobiles also are a close gauge on the entire state of national spending.

While Curtice was speaking in Los Angeles, another important industry figure, Benson Ford, a vice president of Ford Motor Company, in New York speech took a less optimistic view. He said production now is running at an 8-million-car a year rate but will "drop off" to around 6 million cars by the end of the year.

The greatest uneasiness left by Curtice's prediction was in the qualification he placed upon it. "Provided we continue to have labor peace."

Recommend County Farm, Home Bureau Funds Go to U. of I.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — An advisory committee of the University of Illinois Agricultural Extension Service today recommended that local farm bureau and home bureau extension funds now spent in the counties be sent instead to the university.

These funds would then be set up as a trust fund to be administered by the College of Agriculture through the extension director, who would make them available for county work.

The recommendation is in line with Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's memorandum of last November calling for a termination of present direct financial and administrative relationship between the Agricultural Extension Service and the county farm and home bureaus.

Dean L. B. Howard of the College of Agriculture reviewed the report today in Springfield before a special meeting of the county farm bureau presidents.

The committee's report also suggested that television might be used to spread agricultural information, but it did not elaborate.

Lower Assessed Valuations Bring New School Financing Problems

Off Three and a Half Million Dollars in Saline County

"Lowering of assessed valuations in Saline county is bringing about a problem in school financing that I do not know the answer to," R. Dale Wilson, county superintendent of schools, said today.

He said that valuations have dropped in the county despite the finding of oil, especially in the Eldorado field. However, he said, this April there should be considerably more added to the assessed valuations in Eldorado township due to the change in the oil picture between this year and last.

Valuations on which taxes will be paid this year are three and a half million dollars less than they were the previous year for the county, despite the addition of a million dollars in assessed valuations in the oil fields.

ITHIS Worst Financially
The Harrisburg Township high school district presents the worst picture, financially, Mr. Wilson stated. The district is composed of all of Harrisburg township and parts of Cottage, Brushy, Mountain, Independence and Raleigh. Assessments on which taxes were paid last year for the district totaled $29,409,165, and this year the figure for taxes is $27,051,675, a loss of $2,357,490 in valuation.

"This means that for education purposes the district will lose $11,787.45 from taxes for the school year starting in December," he stated. "And with the district's present financial plight of running in arrears, the condition will be even worse the next year."

On the surface, the Harrisburg City school district financial picture does not look so bad, but actually there is a loss of about a million and a half dollars in assessments for the district over the previous year.

District Enlarged
Assessments made in 1954 payable this year totaled $19,116,519 and for the previous year they were $19,045,842, which shows a gain of $70,668. However, Wilson explained, between the two assessments the district was enlarged by the addition of Bankston and Cain districts and one-half of Pleasant Valley district and the total assessed valuation of this area was $1,574,262 the year before they joined the city system.

There will be no appreciable change in the Dorrisville school district, Mr. Wilson stated—possibly the assessed valuation will be off just slightly.

The Eldorado Township high school district, comprising Eldorado township, parts of Raleigh, Cottage and Long Branch, all of Rector and areas in Hamilton and Gallatin counties, lost $246,894 in assessed valuation despite the oil activity as of a year ago in the district. The assessed valuations including oil were: 1953 payable in 1954 — $15,312,369; 1954 payable this year

Olson Receives Two Years for Collaboration

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Joseph P. Cleland, commanding general of Ft. Bragg, today began a review of a two-year prison sentence handed to M-Sgt. William H. Olson, fourth American soldier convicted of collaboration with the Communists in Korea.

A general court martial Thursday sentenced Olson to two years at hard labor, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

"This is total and complete disgrace," the 40-year-old career soldier said. "I had rather be shot than get a dishonorable discharge."

Olson, a native of Youngsville, Pa., said he was proud of his 20 years of service and would try to appeal his case to the Court of Military Appeals, highest military court.

A court found Olson guilty Wednesday night on three counts of collaborating while a prisoner of war in Korea and on a charge that he lied when he swore he never collaborated.

He was found guilty on two counts of making speeches for the Red Chinese and one of writing articles for a POW camp publication. He was acquitted on another article-writing charge and counts of informing on fellow-prisoners, urging them to sign "peace petitions" and making recordings for Red propaganda broadcasts.

He originally was charged with eight violations of Article 104 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, but the court dismissed a charge that he wrote a surrender leaflet. Olson could have received a death penalty on any one of the collaboration counts.

East St. Louis Man Killed in Accident at Naval Base in Spain

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — The body of Storekeeper IC Everett M. Whitworth, killed in an accident at the U. S. naval base here Monday, will be flown home to East St. Louis, Ill., today.

A memorial service was held at the base Thursday. Whitworth's wife, Dolores, and their three children are returning to the U. S. next week.

Girl Scouts to Attend Church in Group Sunday

March 6 through 12 is Girl Scout Week and to begin that week in the proper way the Girl Scouts and Brownies of the Harrisburg area of Saline County Council will go in a body to the Presbyterian church Sunday for the morning worship at 10:45.

The Girl Scout organization which will be 43 years old Saturday has adopted "Believe, Belong and Build" as its theme. It is a happy phrase and one that Scouts and their leaders put into practice daily.

What one believes deeply is what she will work for devoutly. The women of Saline county who serve on the Girl Scout Council and its activities, and those who assume the responsibility of leading troops, are living examples of the truth of this statement. These group-ups made it possible for Saline county to sustain a flourishing, vital Girl Scout program.

The continuous growth and spread of Girl Scouting is a matter of wonder and sentiment, for it began nationally with a handful of girls and today registers more than a million and a half girl members in every state, territory and possession.

Report Village Might Survive Flow of Lava

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — The plantation village of Kapoho "miraculously" stood intact today even though blood-red lava was flowing fiercely on both sides and within 200 yards of it.

Volcanologist Dr. Gordon MacDonald, who spent the night flitting with death to track the flow, reported to the Oloa police station — some 15 miles from Kapoho — that the village "might survive."

The 335 residents of Kapoho were evacuated two days ago. Earlier in the morning the volcanologist, Deputy Hilo Police Chief George Martin, and MacDonald's assistant, Curtis Kamai, reported that a fissure suddenly "blew wide open" at the outskirts of the village.

"We didn't wait around to see what was coming next," said Kamai when the group reported the village engulfed. "MacDonald brought us out alive. If it wasn't for his command, we never would have made it."

MacDonald then returned to the flow area and reported that the first traces of daylight disclosed the village had "miraculously" remained unscathed.

He said "somehow" the lava flow apparently skirted the village which had been given up for lost at least three times in the past four days. MacDonald reported that the main stream was headed for sea—a few hundred feet west of the town.

The fissure unleashed fountains of blood-colored lava that shot 300 to 400 feet into the air as the mass of molten rock flowed toward the sea. The lava set trees and undergrowth afire.

Union Votes on Phone Company Contract Offer

BULLETIN
SPRINGFIELD (AP) — General Telephone Co. officials today announced it had been notified a company wage increase offer averaging about 6 cents an hour had been accepted by the electrical workers union.

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — General Telephone Co. officials today waited to hear the outcome of a union vote on the company's latest contract offer.

Locals 702 and 51 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were considering a wage increase offer averaging about 6 cents per hour, plus another two-tenths of a cent in fringe benefits. The offer also included new seniority provisions.

General Telephone made the offer at a negotiating session here last month, after the union voted to strike rather than accept a wage boost offer averaging about 5 cents per hour.

W. O. Trettin, vice president of the company, said the union had indicated the result of the vote might be announced today.

The negotiations, instituted after the old company-union contract expired Jan. 22, involved about 500 telephone linemen and plant workers.

General Telephone serves about 700 communities.

Admits Stealing Coin Collection

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — Jefferson county authorities said today Donald Fletcher had confessed stealing a coin collection from the home of Mrs. Greta Marquis and had been charged with burglary and larceny.

Fletcher was jailed at Salem, Sheriff L. O. R. Wood said. Frank Bond, charged with being an accessory, purchased three of the coins from Fletcher.

Some of the coins, perhaps hundreds of dollars worth, were purchased by a Benton nightclub operator.

March Lion Lashes Midwest With Storms

Illinois, Indiana Areas Catch Brunt of Storm

By United Press
The March lion showed its teeth today, raking the Midwest with rain, hail and roof-topping winds and sending a cold wave across the northern Plains.

The week of violent weather, which began with the Far West's worst blizzard of the year, was climaxed with these developments:

1. Icy air from Canada ran head-on into a vast blanket of warm, moist Gulf air. The collision touched off a savage storm system that stretched from Illinois to Pennsylvania and New York.

2. A March "heat wave" broke records in the nation's eastern half, but a zero cold wave was reaching icy fingers out of Wyoming.

3. The rains swelled flood waters in the Ohio River Valley. A number of families were evacuated from low-lying lands near Cincinnati, where the Ohio was expected to crest at two feet above flood stage today.

Rescue Skiers in Utah
4. Rescue crews broke through snow drifts in the Wasatch Mountains of Utah, freeing more than 175 skiers who had been marooned since last Friday.

5. Record-breaking mountain snow sent hundreds of lean, mean moose roaming residential streets in Anchorage, Alaska. The big animals, some weighing half a ton, besieged a police chief in his home and startled bar patrons by peering through the door.

Northern Indiana caught the brunt of the Midwest storm late Thursday as it weathered 60 to 70 mile per hour winds and hail stones the size of golf balls.

At Westville, Ind., a high school chimney crashed through the roof, showering debris within a few feet of eight girls. Two persons were hospitalized suffering from shock, one of them an 81-year-old man whose house trailer was torn apart around him.

Wind Does Tricks
A portion of U. S. 6 near Westville was blocked when a filling station was blown across the highway and the wind pushed a car parked in a back yard across the street.

Castle Rules Dogs Wearing Tags Cannot Be Impounded

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Atty. Gen. Latham today handed down an opinion which may qualify him as the dog's best friend.

Castle called off the dog-catchers by ruling that all Illinois dogs who wear tags to prove they have received anti-rabies shots should be free from impoundment.

He added, however, that dogs wearing tags must not show any rabies symptoms and, to show good faith, should refrain from nipping anyone.

Castle also held that a dog who gets an inoculation tag in one county should be free to visit any other Illinois county without fear of seizure.

Mrs. Fred Goetzman Tells of Her Native Ireland in Historical Society Address

The Saline County Historical society's opening meeting of the new year was held at the Mitchell-Carnegie Library in Harrisburg Tuesday evening, March 1. There were 43 members and guests in attendance.

David Reeves opened the program by giving his article, "The Eldorado Spoke Factory," which will appear in the May issue of the Junior Historian. David related the story of the industry telling of its location, its extent, and its importance in the life of the community.

Cynthia Baker told of the "McKendree College Bell" and its unique history. She stated that it was the oldest bell in the United States having been cast in Spain during the eighteenth century. She went on to tell its varied and exciting existence until it finally came to rest in the tower at McKendree college. Miss Baker's article appeared in the February Junior Historian.

Both David and Cynthia, pupils of the Eldorado Junior high school, acquitted themselves with honor. Their stories were told in a delightful way with careful thought to historic fact, English composition, and dramatic presentation.

Mrs. Fred Goetzman, of Shawneetown, was the featured speaker of the evening. She has recently returned from a six months' visit with her parents in her native Ireland.

Mrs. Goetzman began her talk by giving the geographical setting of Ireland. She explained that the six northern counties were under

British Navy Rules Sailors' Girl Friends are Ladies

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Navy ruled today that sailors' girl friends are as much ladies as those squired by officers.

The question was raised in Parliament about a notice aboard H. M. S. minesweeper Luertes referring to "officers and their ladies, petty officers and their wives," and sailors and their women."

A Labor member of Parliament said he objected. "Co do we," answered First Lord of the Admiralty J. P. L. Thomas.

Nationalists Beat Off Sneak Attack on Isle

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The National Military Information Service reported today that 40 Red Chinese gunboats and motorized junk boats attempted a sneak attack on Kaoteng Island in the Matsu group late this afternoon.

The report said the attack was beaten off in a 25-minute battle. American officials, working with Nationalist military leaders on a sweeping reappraisal of the U. S. military assistance program, were reported recommending a shift in emphasis to naval strength to meet such Red attacks.

The sneak attack was made under cover of heavy fog.

Nationalist sources said the Kaoteng garrison met the thrust with heavy gunfire. The Red gunboats replied and an artillery duel ensued.

No Mention of Casualties
After the battle, the Nationalist reports said, the invaders fled northward.

The account of the battle made available here made no mention of the casualties or damage inflicted on either side.

The thrust was the second this year by Communist amphibian forces against Kaoteng Island, which is located three miles north of Matsu in Foochow Bay just off the mainland coast.

The Chinese Nationalist government was under sharp attack by its lawmakers today for failing to win from U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles a clear pledge to help defend Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands.

In overhauling the Nationalist defenses to stress naval power, it appeared almost certain that the United States would appoint an admiral as chief of the American military assistance advisory group. It now is headed by Maj. Gen. William G. Chase, who is due for retirement.

Garage Mechanics Strike at Marion

MARION, Ill. (AP) — Nearly 50 automobile mechanics went on strike today against garage owners here.

The mechanics walked out after rejecting a contract offer from the garage owners. They are members of Lodge 310 of the International Association of Machinists.

The strikers asked a 15-cent hourly wage increase, two weeks' paid vacation instead of the present one and one more paid holiday. It was reported the garage owners offered a contract that provided a pay increase and one week's paid vacation but no paid holidays.

Would Affect Postal Workers And Servicemen

Winchell's Stock Market Tips Under Fire at Hearing

By United Press
Two House groups voted today for more than 2 1/2 million persons on the federal payroll.

If the hikes are enacted they will cost the government about 886 million dollars a year.

The House Post Office committee approved legislation to give some 518,000 postal workers an average 7.5 per cent pay increase. Chairman Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) estimated the cost at 151 million dollars annually.

Meanwhile, a House Armed Services subcommittee approved a 735-million-dollar-a-year pay raise for some two million officers and men. Chairman Paul J. Kilday (D-Tex.) said he expects the full committee to approve the measure Tuesday.

Other news:
Sharpshooters: Homer L. Brinkley, vice president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, said some U. S. businessmen are destroying the American farmer's foreign markets by exporting low-quality farm products. He told the Senate Agriculture committee that "the old sharpshooters are coming out of the woodwork again."

NLRB: Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) accused the administration of putting off "employer-minded people" in top National Labor Relations Board jobs. They opposed Senate approval of Theophil C. Kammholz of Chicago to be NLRB general counsel.

Market: Columnist Walter Winchell's stock market tips came under fire before the Senate Banking committee. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said the market value of one stock plugged by Winchell dropped a net of more than two million dollars in 90 minutes after an initial rise of 36 1/2 shares. Fulbright's committee is investigating the boom in industrial securities. Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, testified that prompt action by the exchange prevented heavy losses for persons acting on another Winchell tip. McCormick also testified that the stock boom is sound.

Ditches: Three members of the Senate Armed Forces committee were cool to a proposal by Civil Defense Director Val Peterson that ditches be dug along highways to provide evacuees protection in an H-bomb attack. Sens. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said the more important problem is providing more major highways for evacuation.

Tax Evader: The government is on the trail of an American abroad worth about 150-million dollars who has never paid any income taxes. Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today that the multi-millionaire is one of about 500,000 Americans overseas who do not keep up payment of their U. S. taxes.

Amendment: Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he would introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of the president and vice president by popular vote.

Knowland and the UN

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
When Senator Knowland of California speaks of the United Nations, he is usually on pretty shaky ground. He seems to give play to his emotions and give short shrift to reason and fact.

Recently he said the UN no longer can be considered an effective instrument of collective security.
He said this hope was shattered by the Korean war, wherein the U. S. provided 90 per cent of the troops and only 17 of 60 UN countries participated.

Knowland charged that UN "so tied us down" that stalemate was the only possible outcome of the war. He added that we were denied the right of "hot pursuit" and the Red enemy was protected behind the Yalu River border.

Let's look at these items in reverse order.

The record is plain that it was not the UN alone but our own government — first Democratic and then Republican — which barred hot pursuit and bombing beyond the Yalu.

This policy was followed to avoid possible enlargement of the war to major proportions, and also because our troops in Korea and our bases in Japan enjoyed freedom from enemy bombing.

As for the stalemate, that, too, stemmed from deliberate American policy aimed at confining the war, not least because it was assumed our people were not willing to take on the tax burdens of an all-out effort. Whatever the dominant attitude in the UN, we tied ourselves down.

Admittedly we were keenly disappointed at the limited extent of practical UN military support in Korea. We wanted more help, and constantly hoped for it.

But Knowland might re-read the history of our early decisions on Korea if he imagines we did not regard it in our own interest to defend Korea alone if necessary.

A common charge then was that we promoted UN action to gain moral backing for what we intended to do anyway. The element of truth there was that we recognized — somewhat late — that Korea in enemy hands was a dagger of land pointing at Japan. And Japan we have always seen as vital to America's own safety.

Actually, the UN never has been an effective instrument of collective security, in the sense of having the power to enforce peace or block major aggression. Its strength lay in unity among all the great powers, and this never existed, as Russia quickly showed.

A careful look at the UN charter, with its great power veto, and at the diplomatic history of the years just before Korea, would demonstrate this to most anyone
— if not to Senator Knowland.

Why Not?

Not long ago it was proposed that Chief Justice Earl Warren go before a joint session of Congress to spell out fully the needs of the federal judicial system. Some objections were raised, presumably on the score that such an appearance wouldn't be dignified.

This argument lacks a little thin.
A Chief Justice hardly can be accused of descending into the political arena when he addresses a joint congressional session. That body represents both parties obviously. And its joint meeting are the occasion of its most ceremoni-ous functions: important addresses from the President and from visiting heads of state.

It is true that, though co-equal with the Congress and the Executive, the Supreme Court customarily remains a bit aloof from the branches of government. But there would seem no sound reason why that aloofness should be seriously impaired by a single appearance, of the Chief Justice in the legislative halls.

The federal courts desperately need more judicial manpower if American justice is not to bog down. Why not have the Chief Justice present the story?

DREW PEARSON Says:
Democrats Get Interesting Facts About Dixon-Yates From Budget Boss; Bureau Clammed
When First Quizzed By This Column; Officer Of Firm Financing Dixon-Yates Was Budget Bureau Consultant.

WASHINGTON. — Now that the Democrats have investigative power in both houses of Congress some hitherto concealed facts are beginning to leak out.

One of them, as to how the Dixon-Yates contract sailed through the Budget Bureau so smoothly, was the object of considerable newspaper search last summer. At that time, however, officials were completely tongue-tied.

Last year President Eisenhower announced in a press conference that he had given a directive to all government agencies to make information available to the public except when it involved the security of the nation.

However, questions asked at the Budget Bureau as to which officials or persons worked on the Dixon-Yates contract met with a blank wall of silence.

It had been reported that a special consultant who was interested in the Dixon-Yates contract came into the Budget Bureau from private industry, then left the government after the contract had been approved, to go back and work for the Dixon-Yates people.

A query from Senator Lister Hill of Alabama to the Budget Bureau brought a negative reply. A query from Senator Langer's Anti-Monopoly committee brought a negative reply.

Finally a representative of this column went to the Budget Bureau, and here is a play-by-play account of what happened.

CHARMING BUT ADAMANT
"We don't have a list of the people who worked on the Dixon-Yates plan," stated Virginia De Pury, charming spokesman for the Budget Bureau.

"Could you draw up a list?" she was asked.

"No, that would be too much trouble."

"We'll be happy to do the work for you if you will simply authorize us to make the necessary inquiries," this column countered.

"This is a public building," Miss De Pury snapped. "You can go around and ask any questions you wish."

"But everyone is afraid to talk,"
she was told. "They send me back to you. Now if you will let me say it is all right for them to talk, I can get the names without troubling you further."

Miss De Pury refused.

"Are these names a matter of national security?" she was asked further.

"I don't know."

"It may be embarrassing to release the names of those who worked on the Dixon-Yates plan, but it certainly isn't a military secret,"
the lady was further pressed. "Under the President's directive, non-security information is supposed to be open to the public."

"Jim Hagerty (White House press aide) says we don't have to give out conversations between government officials," she shot back.

"Did we ask for any conversations?"

"The people who worked on the Dixon-Yates plan had to talk to each other," she bristled.

"We didn't ask for what they said to each other," Miss De Pury was reminded. "We only want to know their identities."

"Why don't you ask President Eisenhower?" she suggested angrily, then withdrew the suggestion.

In the end, this column appealed directly to Budget Boss Rowland Hughes for the names. His reply, phoned back by Miss De Pury,
was, "No comment."

POTENT HOOVER

Now that Democratic-controlled committees of Congress have the power to subpoena, Budget Director Rowland Hughes has just admitted to Senator Hill that Adolph H. Wentzell, vice president and director of the First Boston Corporation, one of the companies financing Dixon-Yates, was an "unpaid consultant" to the Budget Bureau during the period when Dixon-Yates was being rushed through the Budget Bureau like greased lightning, with no competitive bidding and despite a better bid by the Von Tresckow group.

No wonder the charming press spokesman for the Budget Bureau was so evasive. No wonder also director Hughes at that time issued the statement: "No comment."

Note 1 — It is highly unusual for the Budget Bureau to initiate electric power projects in the first place. This is the job of the Interior Department or the Federal Power Commission or the Tennessee Valley Authority. Never before in the history of the United States government has the Budget Bureau initiated and negotiated an electric power project.

Note 2 — Chief inspirer of the Dixon-Yates project was ex-President Herbert Hoover, who has more to say inside the Eisenhower administration than any other person not actually in the cabinet — with the possible exception of Thomas E. Dewey.

Buick production hits new highs to handle the orders pouring in!

GOOD thing the Buick factories stepped up production of the 1955 cars when they did—because customer orders are pouring in.

Seems just about everybody wants a 1955 Buick—the "hot" car this year
that's getting hotter by the hour.

So hot, in fact, that it's topping the huge popularity which moved Buick into the "Big Three" of the nation's best sellers last year.

Know why? Plenty reasons.

Bold new styling, of course. And brilliant new V8 power. And room and comfort and luxury interiors—and an even finer, softer, steadier ride.

But the big reason is a new magic from the field of aviation—Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

*Twenty propeller-like blades inside

this wondrous automatic drive do what the modern airplane propeller does—they switch their pitch.

One way, you get more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

You switch the pitch to another angle just by pressing down on the gas pedal —and you get a new kind of instan-taneous response for getaway or for safety-surge accelerating power.

It's an experience you've never had before in an earth-bound vehicle—and it's thrilling beyond words.

So you can see why we're selling
Buicks at a record rate.

And you can see more of the reason why when you look into the low pricing schedule that makes Buick

the buy of the year, hands down

Buick Sales Are Soaring!

Proof? Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of the best-known ones in the smaller-car field. And for two good reasons: (1) popular prices low enough for any new-car buyer to reach; and (2) a line of cars to fit any budget, from the low-priced SPECIAL, to the extra-spacious SUPER, to the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Come in and check things for yourself. Once you do—and press that gas pedal—we believe you won't be happy till you're bossing your very own Buick.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick street and into another yard. Roofs were ripped off, telephone and electric utility wires were blown down, and, in the nearby Ogden Dunes, hail and rain piled up .91 inches deep in just 18 minutes.

Another savage storm ripped Terre Haute, Ind., breaking about 1,000 panes in a greenhouse, while in Illinois the sudden storm turned a perfect spring day into night at Chicago.

The temperature skidded 15 degrees from a near-record 63.8 in the Windy City as 50-mile-per-hour winds, quarter-inch hailstones and lashing rain pounded the metropolis.

In downstate Illinois, baseball-size hailstones damaged every roof in the tiny town of Gardner. The 1,000 residents tried to catch the water in buckets to keep from being flooded out of their homes.

Telephone service was crippled at Mattoon, Ill., quarter-inch hail hit Rockford, Ill., and two-inch hailstones caused widespread damage at Neoga, Ill.

The big storm also added to flood dangers in Ohio and Indiana, although most cities were well protected by flood walls. The rising White and Wabash rivers closed roads in Indiana. At Louisville, Ky., the luxury steamer Delta Queen was barely able to sail its towering smokestack underneath a railroad bridge on the Ohio.

THE STORY: Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg, attempting to make a few dollars as bill collectors, get involved in a murder. The victim, Jess Carmichael III, was slain in the apartment of Alice Cummings, from whom Fletcher and Cragg had collected for a fur coat. Part of the payment on the coat was a "goose bank" filled with small change.

They reached the eighth floor and crossed to Room 821. Johnny took out his key to unlock the door, but before he could insert the key into the lock, the door was opened from inside and Lieutenant Madigan of homicide said pleasantly, "Fletcher, old man, how are you?"

"The cops!" cried Sam. Lieutenant Madigan sized up Sam. "You lost some weight." "I been off my feed." "You want to watch that," Madigan said. "Well, shall we sit down and talk?"

Madigan made himself comfortable on the edge of the bed. Johnny, going to the big Morris chair by the window, saw that the drawers of the dresser had been pulled out. "You been goin' through our things?" he accused.

"Naturally," Madigan was a big man, around 40. He was an efficient policeman, thoroughly honest and fair—but he was a policeman. He had known Johnny and Sam for years, but Johnny knew that that acquaintance meant nothing to the detective.

Thanks Register For Seminary Extension Publicity

The Rev. Wm. B. Fuson, pastor of the Dorrisville Baptist church and registrar for the Harrisburg Seminary Extension Center, in the following letter expresses his thanks to The Daily Register for news coverage on the opening of the Seminary:

March 2, 1955
Editors, Reporters
Harrisburg Daily Register
Harrisburg, Illinois
Gentlemen:

I send you this note of appreciation for the wonderful spirit of cooperation in your news coverage of our Seminary Extension Center, which opened in Harrisburg Tuesday, March 1. You have been most considerate of our work indeed. We thank you for this and many other favors of the past.

Without question, the Harrisburg Seminary Extension Center will grow to be an integral part of our religious life. It shall endeavor to train and teach religious leaders in the churches of the surrounding area. At present both white and colored people are enrolled. Persons from every walk of life are participating including nearly everything from real estate dealer to truckdriver. The registration now stands at 98 and will perhaps go over one hundred before registration closes Thursday night.

Again let me thank you for your kindness toward us in our work of faith. Men with your spirit have helped it to be successful.

Yours truly,
Wm. B. Fuson, registrar

Resume Sunday Night Services at Harco Baptist Church

Services are again being held on Sunday night at the Harco Baptist church for the first time in approximately three years.

The church which had been closed for almost a year opened last October after it had been thoroughly cleaned, rewired, refloored and new windows had been installed. The Sunday school attendance record is climbing rapidly and last Sunday the first evening service was held.

Rev. John Beggs is the pastor, and his subject this Sunday will be "The Man Who Took a Bath." Also helping at the church is Rev. Floyd Lacy, director of missions for the Saline Baptist association.

Sunday school superintendent is Oscar Russell.

The public is cordially invited to attend services.

Delay Sale of Toll Road Bonds

CHICAGO — The sale of some 400 million dollars in revenue bonds to finance construction of the Illinois toll road project has been delayed.

The original sale date had been set for Monday by Evan Howell, chairman of the Illinois Toll Roads Commission.

But Thursday, a member of a La Salle Street investment firm said Howell's choice of dates was tentative.

James J. Jameson, a partner in Glorv-Forgan and Co., said the bonds would be offered on the market around March 16 or 17.

Howell, meanwhile, was scheduled to attend two meetings of prospective buyers of the issue, one in New York Monday and the other here Tuesday.

Interest rates and the exact amount of the issue will be partially determined by the meetings.

National Church Council Opposes Permanent UMT

CHICAGO — The National Council of Churches was on record today as opposing—but not too harshly—universal military training.

A resolution condemning permanent UMT was approved Thursday, 72-3, by the NCC's General Board, which represents 35 million members of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox faiths in the United States.

But the main opposition was to the word "permanent."

A resolution condemning UMT in stronger language—stating it would lead to a "garrison state"—was defeated, 38-33.

The board said it opposed "permanent UMT" for "religious and moral reasons," but that it "reserved judgment" on specific selective service measures now before Congress.

The approved resolution said, "it is not in accord with our heritage as a free nation under God, permanently to recruit our youth under the banners of the military."

Eldorado, Shawneetown Meet in Regional Final

LET'S HOLD HANDS . . . Harrisburg's Gerry Wasson (32) and Eldorado's Lindell Lovellette (40) seem to be engaged in a bit of hand-holding as they battle for a rebound in the fourth quarter of last night's regional tournament semifinal. At the extreme left is Eldorado's Ronnie Clark, who played a sharp game at guard for the Eagles. The Bull Dogs' Don Price (5) awaits developments, as Dave Harrison (extreme right) gets ready to break down the floor.

"HEY, RUBE!"—Shawneetown's Bobby Spottsville (in white shirt) seems to have come out second best in this effort to stop Carrier Mills' ace Oliver Rollins as the massive Wildcat pivot man racks up two of his 31-point total in the first game of the regional semifinals last night at Norris City. Rollins' individual efforts couldn't offset a balanced Indian offense, however, as Shawneetown shot its way into the final game against a hefty Eldorado squad. Carrier Mills' Jim Reid (31, left) and the Indians' Alfred Gunzel (22, right) anxiously await the outcome.

Trade Winds Blowing with Seven Major Clubs in the Player Market

By United Press

Those March winds are turning into trade winds for the baseball teams in the South with as many as seven major-league clubs suddenly back in the player market.

Star third baseman Eddie Yost of the Washington Senators was reportedly being offered around, with both the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles very much interested. Meanwhile, the Cincinnati Redlegs were conferring with Pittsburgh and the Dodgers were warming up their trade talks with the Phillies.

There's no doubt that Yost, a slick-fielding "iron man" who has played 813 straight games, would be a big help to the White Sox or the Orioles—and both were putting together big packages as bait.

Redlegs Want Pitchers

General Managers Gabe Paul of Cincinnati and Branch Rickey of Pittsburgh put their heads together in a long confab at Fort Myers, Fla. No announcement was made, but there was speculation the Redlegs were interested in Pirate pitchers Vernon Law, Bob Friend, and Dick Littlefield, who won a total of 26 games for the last-place Pirates last season.

The Dodgers and Phils, who conferred several times during the winter without reaching an agreement, were reported back at it again, the Dodgers seeking a pitcher or a left fielder with Junior Gilliam as their chief trade bait. The Boston Red Sox were waiting anxiously to hear from star outfielder Ted Williams who promised a final "yes or no" on whether he would play this season "late this week." While waiting, they signed their last holdout, catcher Sammy White, giving him a salary boost in exchange for a promise not to play basketball during the winter.

The White Sox signed outfielder

Minnie Minoso for a $7,500 raise instead of the $16,000 he asked to $35,000, but learned that infielder Cass Michaels, who collapsed during Wednesday's workout, will be in the hospital "at least two or three more days" and then will have to rest some more.

The Chicago Cubs got a good physical report from third baseman Randy Jackson, who tested his left hand that had been infected last year by walloping several long drives, and said he was completely recovered. The New York Giants were told by Coach Larry Jansen that he thinks he can make a comeback "and win again."

And pitcher Billy Hoelt of Detroit, who lost 15 games last year when he gained 15 pounds, says this year will be "different" because he's now down to 185 pounds.

Cumberland, Collinsville Lose Tournament Tilts In Rugged Regional Play

SPRINGFIELD — Cumberland and Collinsville disappeared today from the ranks of surviving teams in rugged tournament play for the 1955 Illinois prep basketball crown.

The Pirates and Kahoks, both ranked as top contenders, fell in regional semifinals Thursday night. Ninety-five teams were eliminated, reducing the field for tonight's finals to 120.

Neoga, an unheralded little team that had suffered 11 losses, pulled the biggest upset of regional play when it dumped Cumberland at Mattoon 58-55.

Gophers Have Last Chance to Tie for Title

CHICAGO — Minnesota gets its last chance to remain in the running for a possible tie for the Big Ten basketball championship as a 14-point favorite to win its season finale at home against Wisconsin.

The Gophers are the only club with any chance to tie the front-running Iowa Hawkeyes. Minnesota can get into a title deadlock only by beating the Badgers, and then only if Iowa should lose its last game against Michigan Monday.

Iowa will be idle Saturday. A defeat for Minnesota could drop the Gophers into a tie for second place too as Illinois closes its season at Northwestern in a "pick-it" game. Should Illinois win and Minnesota lose, then the two clubs would tie.

Hoosiers Favored Over OSU

Also a loss for Minnesota would guarantee Iowa its first undisputed Big Ten title since 1945 and its second in history. Another Minnesota defeat would leave the Hawkeyes in first place regardless of the outcome of their game with Michigan.

Other Big Ten games on Saturday's program are Ohio State at Indiana and Michigan State at Michigan in the afternoon television match.

Saturday's games will end the season for all teams except Michigan and Iowa.

Name Officials For Sectionals

Bob Blondi of Benton and C. L. Harris of Carlyle will be the officials for the sectional tournament at Marion next week, it was announced today by the Illinois High School association.

Claude W. Rhodes of Benton and James E. McCoskey of Murphysboro will officiate at the East St. Louis tournament.

Officials at the Salem sectional will be Ford Peebles of Marion and Joe Przada of East St. Louis.

Blondi, Rhodes, McCoskey and Peebles officiated at Harrisburg during the past season and Harris called games here in other years.

Eagles Eliminate Bull Dogs, 53-43; Indians Beat Wildcats, 66-58

It's unbeaten Shawneetown and Saline county's Eldorado in the finals of the Norris City regional tournament tonight.

The county's other two representatives in the tournament were eliminated last night in semifinal play. Shawneetown outlasted a Carrier Mills rally to topple the Wildcats, 66-58, and Eldorado downed arch-rivals, Harrisburg, 53-43.

A capacity crowd jammed the Norris City gym to witness the two fine games. Tonight's championship tussle starts at 8 o'clock, with Shawneetown's long 28-game winning streak going up against Eldorado.

In probably the best all-around game of the tournament, Eldorado evened the record with Gene Bland's Harrisburg five. The Bull Dogs had beaten Al Adams' Eagles two out of three times in previous meetings this year.

Bull Dogs' Attack Bogs Down

The contest was close throughout with the Eldorado margin coming in the fourth when Harrisburg's offensive bogged down. The score was tied nine times during the game, and at least once in every period.

The Bull Dogs, displaying some fine defensive work, gained a slight 14-11 edge in the first quarter and ran their advantage to 18-11 — their longest of the game — early in the second. Eldorado's floor shooting then began to pick up, and the Eagles knotted things at 18-all.

In the late minutes of the second period, the score was tied twice before Harrisburg broke out into a three-point halftime lead, 27-24.

With less than a minute and a half gone in the third, Eldorado had assumed a 30-29 edge, but it was short-lived. Throughout the remainder of the period, the lead see-sawed, changing hands no less than seven times. Once, with but two minutes to play in the third, the Eagles held a 40-35 margin. Quick baskets by Polk, Price and Anglin returned the lead to Harrisburg, 41-40, before the quarter concluded.

Eagles Increase Margin

Up to that point, the Bull Dogs had out shot their opponents from the field, hitting 17 of 36 to Eldorado's 16 of 41. But in the last eight minutes, Harrisburg could make only one of 12 efforts while their foes sank four of seven.

This, coupled with the fact that the Bull Dogs lost Anglin through personals and drew additional fouls in their effort to gain the ball, aided the Eagles in running their margin to 10 points. Eldorado's strength under the hoop was a telling factor, and big Ed Lissak took scoring honors for the game with 20 points. Gerald Wasson's 13 was high for the losers.

Eldorado hit 20 of 48 efforts from the field for a 41.7 game average. Harrisburg got 18 of 48 for 37.5. At the foul line, Harrisburg made 7 of 11, Eldorado 13 of 23.

In the opening game Shawneetown built up a big 17-point lead in the first three quarters and then almost saw Carrier Mills wipe it out. With all hands contributing, the Indians grabbed a 20-15 quarter lead and continued to outscore the Wildcats in the second, 9-4. Ahead 29-13 as the third canto opened, the Shawnees put together another team effort in the period to pile up a wide 50-33 margin.

Wildcats Whittle Margin

The fourth was a complete reversal, however, as Carrier Mills applied a tight press on the Shawneetown crew. Jim Rouse, who entered the Wildcat lineup late in the third, fired up the team, and big Oliver Rollins gathered 16 points in the final bid.

Carrier Mills took advantage of Shawneetown miscues during the fourth and whittled the margin to a mere six points at one time in the final minute of play. The Indians turned in a miserable performance at the foul line, hitting only 22 of 42 tries for a .524. Carrier Mills bagged 20 of 26 at the charity line for a .769 average.

Both clubs topped the 400 mark from the field, Shawneetown making 22 of 47 attempts for a .468. Carrier Mills dropped in 19 of 44 for .432.

Oliver Rollins' nine field goals and 13 of 14 foul tries gave him 31 points for the game and the highest individual scoring performance thus far in the tournament. Jack Nolen caged 20 for the victors and played an outstanding rebounding game.

McKinley and Logan Teams in Finals of Grade School Tourney

The championship games of the Harrisburg grade school basketball tournament will be an all McKinley-Logan schools affair. The title games will be played Monday afternoon in the Harrisburg Junior high gym, starting at 2:15.

Thursday afternoon McKinley won the sixth grade semifinal from Dorrisville 33-29 and Logan won the fifth grade semifinal with a 24-11 decision over Baylis.

In semifinal games Wednesday Logan's sixth grade and McKinley's fifth grade had advanced into the championship round.

Joseph G. Gaul, 1122 South Granger street, Harrisburg, has received a 1955 Oldsmobile convertible for his outstanding sales record. Mr. Gaul is sales manager for the O'Keefe Distributing company of Carrier Mills and merited the award in a "Battle for Bucks" contest sponsored by the Crosley company.

The O'Keefe Distributing company attained the highest percentage of quota of any distributor in the United States during the contest period, the last three months of 1954, in sales of Crosley TVs and radios. The company distributes in southern Illinois and western Kentucky.

During the same contest Bill Dean of Carbondale, a district sales manager for O'Keefe, also won first prize in a district managers' contest and has been awarded a Country Squire Ford Station wagon.

Lower Valuations
Bring School Problems

—$15,065,475. That is a loss of $246,894 in valuation, which means the school will lose approximately $2,000 in revenue from taxes.

Higher Rate at Eldorado
The Eldorado high school has a 75 cent rate compared with but a 50-cent rate for Harrisburg high school.

The Eldorado city school district, which has a rate of $1.12½ for education purposes, will lose about $3,574 in tax money because of a drop in the assessed valuation of the district, Mr. Wilson said. The drop is $316,337. Taxes this year will be paid on a valuation of $5,207,589. Last year they were paid on a $5,523,926 figure.

The Carrier Mills high school district, composed of Carrier Mills and Stonefort townships, parts of Brushy and Independence and part of Williamson county, has a 75 cent rate but the amount of assessed valuation could not be determined because figures are not yet available for the Williamson county area. However, Mr. Wilson said, the area in Saline county will be off $34,000, which means a loss of about $260 from Saline county taxes.

Galatia Valuations Off
Galatia district, which is composed of all of Galatia and Tate townships, part of Brushy, Long Branch and Raleigh, and area in Hamilton county, is off $533,151 in assessed valuation, which, with its 61-cent rates, means a loss of $3,252.22 in school revenue this year from taxes.

Mr. Wilson further explained that although the Saline County Board of School Trustees has approved the leasing for oil of several pieces of school property, there are only three school districts, all in community areas of Eldorado township, where there are producers at present. They are Green Hill northwest of Eldorado, Beulah Heights, and the Eldorado city schools district, where there is a well near Washington school.

Only one of the districts—Green Hill—has received any royalty checks and these are running between $20 and $30 a month, he said.

Report Shake-Up
Of High Command
Studied by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is considering a complete shake-up in the military high command, the authoritative Army-Navy-Air Force Journal reported today.

The President is considering naming Gen. J. Lawton Collins to be supreme Allied commander in Europe. Collins, former Army chief of staff, would replace Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther in the North Atlantic Treaty post.

Gruenther would be brought home to succeed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Army chief of staff, according to the unofficial military publication. Collins now is serving as Mr. Eisenhower's military trouble shooter in Indochina. The Journal also forecast that Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, may be named the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to succeed Adm. Arthur W. Radford whose first term expires in mid-August.

Ridgway's appointment also runs out in mid-August and the Journal said "it is widely believed in the Army that Gen. Ridgway is not likely to be retained."

Oldest Road

The earth's oldest road winds across the Near East between the alleys of the Euphrates and Nile rivers. Camel trains and marching armies packed down this ancient caravan route thousands of years before the Christian era began.

WIN A NEW CHEVROLET!

. . . IN CHEVROLET'S "MIRACLE MILE" CONTEST!
SPONSORED LOCALLY BY SALINE MOTOR CO.

Here's All You Have To Do:

To enter the Chevrolet "Miracle Mile" Contest, you merely fill out an entry form, write in 25 words or less why you would like to own a 1955 Chevrolet, and deposit the entry in the mailbox provided at Saline Motor Company. Besides writing frankly why you would like to own a new Chevrolet, you must answer four elementary questions about the car's mechanical features, answers for which may be found in the contest booklet. And there's a bonus of a $1,000 bond for every winner who takes a demonstration ride in a new Chevrolet at the time he turns in the entry form.

Entries are being judged nationally on the basis of sincerity and originality rather than writing excellence, grammar, and vocabulary.

Contest Ends May 9th

It will be divided into six contest periods. In each contest period, 16 new Chevrolet Bel Air sedans and a sports model will be awarded winners, for a total of 102 cars nationally.

And if a winner has purchased a new Chevrolet during the contest, he will be presented with the full retail price of a 1955 Chevrolet Bel Air sedan in cash and a $1,000 bond as well, if he has taken a demonstration ride. YOU MAY BE A WINNER . . . ENTER NOW!
